RE: Right to Know Appeal

Dear Mr. Ajayi,

Thank you for filing an appeal pursuant to the Right to Know Law ("RTKL"). I have reviewed your original RTK request to Lansdale Police Department, their denial response, your appeal to the Office of Open Records, the final determination from the OOR, and numerous corresponding documents. Based on my review of those materials, and the relevant provisions of the RTKL and CHRIA, I am respectfully denying your appeal.

Your request is for "...all incident reports regarding Chelsea Myers from 2015 to present..." The RTKL exempts the report from release, however, "any incident report containing information of potential criminal conduct" and "investigative materials, notes, correspondence, videos and reports." RTKL Section 708(b)(16)(i)(ii).

The CHRIA also exempts "incident report[s] containing investigative information for individuals, which cannot be disseminated unless the individual requesting the information is a criminal justice agency and has requested the information in connection with its duties." CHRIA, 18 Pa.C.S.A. §9106(c)(4). As such, the records you seek are indeed exempt from disclosure.

Please be advised that this is a final determination as permitted by law. You have thirty days to appeal. 65 P.S. §67.1302(a).

Very truly yours,

/s/ Robert M. Falin
